QuoteInAMinute Privacy Policy

We provide you with insurance related tools and information to assist you in shopping for and obtaining insurance products. Many of the tools and information are available for your benefit without the need to disclose any personally identifiable information. If you decide to request an application for insurance, we require you to submit minimal personal information. We collect information that includes your name, e-mail address, mailing address, telephone numbers, and date of birth. The information we gather from your insurance application request is used to begin the application process. A representative may contact you to complete your application by telephone so that additional information can be obtained. Your application will then be mailed to you for your review and signatures. This site does not knowingly solicit data from children, and we do not knowingly market to children. We may share aggregated statistical information such as website traffic or demographic information with its business partners; however, in no case will your personally identifiable information be disclosed. QuoteInAMinute may send you e-mail communications to update you on website features or new benefits that may be of interest to you. If at anytime you choose not to receive these e-mails, you may opt-out here: http://quoteinaminute.com/unsub.asp, to be removed from the mailing list. If you request a quote for health or life insurance you have the option of providing your name, telephone number and email address. If you provide your email address or telephone number you grant QuoteInAMinute permission to email and call you regarding your quote. If you provide your telephone number you will likely receive a customer service phone call from an authorized represntative regarding a quote.

This Privacy Policy applies to consumers that have signed up on the quoteinaminute.com website. We may use the personal information that you supply to us and work with other third party businesses to bring selected retail opportunities to our members via direct mail, email and telemarketing. These businesses may include providers of direct marketing services and applications, including lookup and reference, data enhancement, suppression and validation and email marketing.

Cookies

A cookie is a piece of data stored on the user's computer tied to information about the user. Usage of a cookie is in no way linked to any personally identifiable information while on our site. We use both session ID cookies and persistent cookies. For the session ID cookie, once users close the browser, the cookie simply terminates. A persistent cookie is a small text file stored on the user's hard drive for an extended period of time. Persistent cookies can be removed by following Internet browser help file directions.

If users reject the cookie, they may still use our site. Persistent cookies enable us to track and target the interests of our users to enhance the experience on our site.

Security

QuoteInAMinute uses state-of-the-art secure server software and encryption technologies to assist in protecting your personal information. In addition, we use security procedures and practices including the use of firewalls to protect the data it stores on its servers.

Although many security provisions are in place, information submitted on the Internet is not totally secure.

Tell a Friend!

If a user elects to use our referral service for informing a friend about our site, we ask them for the friend's name and email address. QuoteInAMinute will automatically send the friend a one-time email inviting them to visit the site. QuoteInAMinute stores this information for the sole purpose of sending this one-time email. The friend may contact us to request the removal of this information from our database.

Notification of Changes

If at some point in the future, there is a change to our information usage practices that affect your Personally Identifiable Information, we will notify you by email of the relevant changes. The email will inform you on how to opt-out of this information usage or you can opt-out at http://quoteinaminute.com/unsub.asp.
